Subject: Feature Suggestion – Lost Item Reminder for Passenger App

Hi Ted,

Yesterday, one of my passengers left their phone in my car. I was able to contact them and return it, but the situation reminded me of something important for our app.

I propose we add a pop-up notification to the passenger side of the app that appears before they end a ride, reminding them:

“Please collect all your belongings before leaving the vehicle. We are not responsible for lost or forgotten items.”

This small feature adds two benefits:

1. Passenger convenience – It helps riders remember their belongings.
2. Driver protection – It aligns with our terms and conditions, clearly stating that we are not responsible for left-behind items.

It's a simple addition but one that could save passengers a lot of stress and also prevent unnecessary driver liability.

Best regards,

Samuel
